

Gradient systems and the bidomain model

Ralph Chill

(TU Dresden)

We recall results from the classical theory of subgradients and abstract gradient systems on Hilbert. We propose a small variation of this theory, and show how this variation can be applied to some models which have recently been studied. One focus will be the bidomain model.